FROM OUR INTERNS

I became more aware that the lives of our people rely on the relationships/partnerships established with the officials working in the American soil they live in. As an International Relations major, I learned that democratic relations is key because it leads to foreign and local policies we want for our people.” - Kirsten Maddison, Chaminade University, HI

“During my experience at the RMI Embassy, I was fortunate enough to have experienced firsthand, and learn, the many different tasks relating to Marshall Islands affairs with the United States. From the very first day in office, I was welcomed as a member of the team and was genuinely treated like I could make a contribution, despite my inexperience.” - Tatina Peter, Southwestern Adventist University, Texas

“The most prominent lessons learned was the development of my understanding of the relationship between the U.S. and the RMI...Given the helpful and thorough guidance of the Embassy staff, I hope to contribute in one capacity or another to this active and collective strive for progress, and I highly encourage Marshallese youth to use this internship opportunity...” - Grace Oliver, Smith College, MA
